The Misses Peak Entertain.

Misses Mae and Alice Peak entertained a number of their friends last Friday afternoon in honor of Miss Isabel Manly.

The amusement of the afternoon was a drawing contest. Each guest was furnished with two cards. On one card was a pen and ink sketch of an up-to-date girl. The other card was blank and the contest was to make the best copy of the picture on the blank card in a limited time. About an hour was spent in drawing before the pictures were turned in to the judges, who were some of the guests who were not drawing the pictures. After an examination of the work done it was decided that Mrs. Z. M. Williams, Miss Laura Hyde and Miss Nettie Pulliam had done equally well. On drawing the prize was won by Mrs. Williams. It was a pretty hand painted plaque.

Ice cream, strawberry ice and a variety of cakes and salted almonds were served to the guests.

The pleasure of the afternoon was greatly enhanced by the singing, at intervals during the afternoon, of Misses Bessie Bradley and Annie Manly.

The Misses Peak, as is their custom, made the afternoon a most delightful one for their guests, and it was greatly enjoyed by all.

General Manager's Special.

The special train of General Manager Russell Harding, of the Missouri Pacific railroad, came in to Lexington station Friday, June 14, from a tour of inspection over the J. C. B. & L. branch between here and Eonville and over the line from here to Independence. On the train were General Manager Russell Harding, General Superintendent H. G. Clark and Superintendent D. Hardy. They remained here until about 11 o'clock last night in consultation with the engineers and others carrying on the work of improvement from this point and they went east to Jefferson City.

The Missouri Pacific evidently means business on the J. C. B. & L. and every thing possible is being done to push the work to a speedy completion. If Jefferson City is made a division point Lexington is just about the right distance from there to make it another division point and it might be profitable for our people to look into this matter.

Mrs. Cole's at Home.

Mrs. Alvin V. Cole entertained a number of her friends last Saturday afternoon at her pleasant home on Franklin avenue. Carnations and nasturtiums in vases about the rooms produced a pleasing effect in blending of colors and gave the home an inviting appearance.

The amusement of the afternoon was a series of questions on "Yourself," testing the knowledge of the guests on the subject of anatomy. The prize, a pretty hand-painted china plate, was won by Mrs. W. B. Bolton, who succeeded in answering all the questions correctly. The refreshments were strawberry ice cream, lemon ice, assortment of cake and chocolate nut candy.

Miss Alice Peak added to the pleasure of the afternoon by several selections of piano music. Mrs. Cole has made many friends in our leading social circles during the short time she has resided in our city, and her afternoon gatherings are always enjoyed by her guests.
